ABOUT MIKE

Name: Mike Ciporkin (Sipp-orkin) Age: 37
Pronouns: He/Him
Ethnicity: Argentinian / Polish-Russian / Jewish
Birthplace: Florida, USA

Mike's inspiration for acting started with TV shows, movies, and cartoons of the late 80's and 90's: Power Rangers, Batman the Animated Series, X-Men, Doug, Ren & Stimpy, Hook, Mrs. Doubtfire, Ace Ventura: Pet Detective, Spaceballs, Robin Hood: Men Tights, and so many more. Live musicals like 'Phantom the Opera' and 'Fiddler on the Roof' further shaped his love for musical theatre, while films like 'The Lord of the Rings' and 'The Matrix' ultimately solidified Mike's desire to one day pursue acting as a career.

He later joined the US Navy at age 20 and served for 6 1/2 years before being medically separated in 2013. Deeply passionate to continue serving our US Military, he continues to work as a defense contractor on US Navy ships based out of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Mike has truly never forgotten the value of servitude and his professional career contributions to continue serving our nation's military are a testament to this.

From life-long aspiration now turned profession, Mike's Award-Winning voiceover can be heard narrating the $2 Million-Dollar 'Rimac Nevera' electric super-car along with household name brand commercials, corporate narrations, podcasts, audiobooks, cartoons and Japanese animation, and countless video games and trailers. With an ever-growing library of voice styles available at a flick of a mental switch, Mike is a true powerhouse across all mediums of media, marketing, and entertainment.
